Speaker Biography

Juan F. Solis III
SVP, Community Development Manager - Texas, Truist

Juan F. Solis III is a community development and civic leader focused on connecting capital, partnerships, and people to expand economic opportunities and strengthen communities across Texas. As Truist's Community Development Manager for Texas, he brings nearly two decades of banking experience, including work supporting small businesses and nonprofit organizations.

A lifelong San Antonian and former San Antonio City Councilman and Texas State Representative, Juan continues his commitment to public service as Chairman of the Board of LISC San Antonio and Chairman of the City of Castle Hills Zoning Commission. He also serves on the Advisory Board of the DFW Alliance of Technology and Women (DFW*ATW).

A graduate of Sam Houston State University and the executive leadership program at Harvard University's Kennedy School of Government, Juan believes meaningful community development begins with listening, grows through trusted partnerships, and succeeds by creating greater access to opportunity.
